

Gabelli School of Business
Assistant/Associate Professor of Marketing
Tenure-Track, Ref #FAC10-019

Responsibilities

The Gabelli School of Business at Roger Williams University invites applications for a tenure-track position in marketing at the assistant or associate professor level, beginning fall 2010. Responsibilities include teaching introductory and advanced courses in marketing. The individual hired will be expected to provide excellence in teaching, advise students, and maintain a high level of professional activity through quality research and service. The ideal candidate will have a background in marketing management and specialties in at least one other area, including distribution, business-to-business, or advertising.

Requirements

The successful candidate will maintain excellence in teaching, engage in an active program of scholarship that results in peer-reviewed journal publications, participate in service activities, and advise undergraduate business students. Candidates should have an established record or strong potential for high quality innovative instruction, publishable research, and service to the University and community. We seek a colleague who is enthusiastic about teaching and instructional innovation, and who will be an engaged member of the Gabelli School of Business as well as the campus community. Minimum requirements include candidacy (ABD) for the Ph.D. in marketing.

The Gabelli School of Business

The Gabelli School of Business (GSB) is one of five professional schools within Roger Williams University that offer students the opportunity to receive an outstanding professional education within the structure of a liberal arts university. The School offers six business majors: accounting, economics, finance, international business, management, and marketing. The GSB is accredited by AACSB-International, and its 32 full-time faculty members bring an outstanding combination of prestigious academic credentials and achievements, real-world professional experiences, and international perspectives to the nearly 800 full-time undergraduate students enrolled in the school. The GSB provides a superior learning environment, including state-of-the-art classrooms, an internship program, international study programs, and the faculty-sponsored student research program. A signature characteristic of GSB is close student-faculty work in applied projects such as student management of a six-figure portfolio through the Center for Advanced Financial Education.

Roger Williams University is an independent, comprehensive institution with 3800 full-time undergraduates and over 800 graduate and professional students, located on the shore of Mount Hope Bay, mid-way between Providence and Newport, RI.
