

EDU 353 – Introduction to Linguistics

Required for all students with a Secondary Education/ English and Foreign Languages dual major.

This course is an overview of the conceptual foundations of linguistics. The course introduces students to several major areas within linguistics: phonology, morphology, syntax, semantics and pragmatics. It is appropriate for any undergraduate interested in language or its use.

(3 credits) Spring