

EDU 372 – Issues in Elementary Health Education

Prerequisites: EDU 200 and EDU 202

This course is designed to have prospective teachers become knowledgeable in the national and Rhode Island Health Education Standards for elementary students. The Rhode Island Health Frameworks are used as content standards for this course. Topics explored include: health promotion, disease prevention, health-enhancing behaviors, and issues regarding both substance and child abuse.

(1 credit) This course is offered in two Saturday sessions during the Fall and Spring