

EDU 413 Capstone: Ways of Knowing – History and Social Studies

Prerequisites: EDU 200, 202, 396, 397, or permission of instructor.

Ways of Knowing – History and Social Studies is an instructional methodology course designed to expose students to the basic principles, ideas, and classroom practices that lead to engaging teaching and learning of history/social studies at the secondary level. Students examine and describe the nature of social studies instruction in the secondary school. Students demonstrate an understanding of the social studies content area through the observation and delivery of standards-based instruction, and they critically reflect upon the practice of teaching and learning social studies for all students. (3 credits)