

EDU 541 – Young Adolescent Development

This course provides students with an opportunity to examine the key physical, psychological, and social needs changes that characterize the developmental stages of young adolescence. Emphasis will be placed on understanding issues related to the complexities of this unique phase of adolescence within the context of middle school classroom environments.

(3 Credits)