

College Survival List: To Bring or Not to Bring

Please remember before you arrive on campus, discuss with your roommate(s) about items that you will be bringing to the room, such as TVs and refrigerators. You and your roommate(s) need space to live, sleep and study, so communicate with one another before you end up with two refrigerators and two TVs and no space to walk around the room.

A Suggestion on Clothes:

Keep in mind that you may not need to bring every season of clothing with you on Check-in day. Bring clothing that is suitable for the warm weather of September and for the cooling off climate of October. During a trip home when the seasons are changing, bring home what you do not need anymore and bring back clothing for the winter months.
