Service-Learning in Technical and Professional Communication, Bowdon, Scott, New York: Longman, 2003.
Abstract: Grounded in the related practices of ethical deliberation and civic action, this text shows how to implement effective service-learning projects in colleges and universities and larger communities. Discussions of rhetoric and ethics are supplemented with heuristics for analyzing the larger cultural effects of service-learning projects. Includes three sample students projects, narrative insights, assignments showing the wide range of technical and professional communication tasks that can be incorporated into service-learning projects, and tips about managing each phase of the service-learning project.
